State Department Officials Prepare to Remove Envoys Discovered With "Taint."

"Dollar diplomacy" is to be weeded out of the State Department, root and branch, and all members of the United States diplomatic service in South America who are discovered with the taint" are to be removed summarily, according to reports at the White House today.

The first step came in the proposed recall of Henry L. Janes, now arbitrator between Ecuador and the Guaraquil and Quito railway, an American corportion. The railroad has brought a case sulting from the revolution of 1908. An agreement to arbitrate was reached. and the Ecuador nominated the resident of its senate, Senor Mereno, as its representative, and the railroad company picked the President of the United States, whom Mr. Janes was sent to represent at Quito.

this was not a proper action and that it is distinctly part and parcel of dollar diplomacy. Mr. Janes was found to have an interest in the railroad, it

It is probable the proposed treaties with Nicaragua, Honduras, and Guatemala, which were sanctioned by the Taft Administration, but never were ratified by the Senate, will be dropped. These treatles generally brought about a more or less direct American super-vision over the customs collected in the countries concerned as a guarantee of American investments.

One of the Nicaraguan treaties also revided for the payment of $5,300,000 Nicaragua in return for an exclusive construct an interoceanic canal in that country, a provision in-tended to prevent possible competition

DISTRICT IS OFFERED

Would Have Supervision of Stock and Bond Sales.

Congressman Luther W. Mott, a Republican, of New York, has introduced a bill to regulate the sale of stocks. bonds, and other securities in the District of Columbia and to change the local insurance department to a department of insurance and investments with authority to supervise the market ing of certain securities in the District Mr. Mott is an Oswego banker and was president of the New York State Bank ers' Association in 1910 and 1911.

Government, State, Territory, foreign county, and municipal bonds and securities of "quasi-public" corporations the issue of whose securities is regulated by a public service commission, or those

The bill provides that no dealer shall sell or offer for sale in the District of Columbia any security not exempted until he has filed with the superintendent of insurance and investments statement under oath showing the name and place of business of such dealer and the names, residences, and business addresses of all persons interested as principals, officer, directors, or trustees including the name, residence, and business address of an agent residing in the

The bill also provides: "That by an order directed to any such dealer, the superintendent of in-surance and investments may require surance and investments may require such dealer, whenever he shall offer any security or securities in the District of Columbia, except to other dealers or banks, to file with him a statement showing the security or securities as offered, and the superintendent may by such order require such dealer to mail to him, as soon as any copies are so mailed or shown to any prospective purchaser in the District of Columbia, a copy of all printed or otherwise reduplicated circulars of any security or securities the dealer shall offer for sale in the District of Columbia, including a copy of all advertisements thereon inserted in any newspaper, magazine, or other periodical paper, magazine, or other periodical published in the District of Columbia. The superintendent of insurance and in-vestments may limit such an order to securities of any particular class or character of which he may deem such

After hearing oral arguments by John B. Daish for S. T. J. Price and other patrons of the Washington and Old Dominion railway, and Wilton J. Lambert for the company, the Interstate Commerce Commission has reserved judgment on the issue as to whether the company shall make its valuation and the financial details of its transfer a part of the record in the case.

Patrons of the road attacked the existing fares before the commission and the case is now pending. In the course of the hearing Mr. Daish asked that the company produce the financial details of the transaction by which its ownership was changed. He alleged that the change was made at a greatly enhanced physical valuation, and that no information was had at the hearing of questions hearing on the road attacked the experiment facts sufficient to chable intending purchasers to form a reasonable and accurate judgment of the value of the security. Unless such evidence is filed and is sufficient, as stated, the superintendent of insurance and investments may at any time order a dealer to file with him evidence, in-the dealer to file wi hanced physical valuation, and that incents may order the dealer not to offer information was had at the hearing questions bearing on this phase of tise it in such publications or circularize On this account Mr. Daish It in the District of Columbia held that the case had not been fully heard.

In reply, Mr. Lambert made the point that, as no attempt was made by the complainants to show the use of rev from six months to two years.

The penalty attached to willful violation of the act is a fine of not more than $1,000 and, if the violation is with intent to defraud, by imprisonment from six months to two years.

that, as no attempt was made the point that, as no attempt was made by the complainants to show the use of revenues in paying dividends on any valuation, such information was not pertinent to the case. The only issue, he said, is whether certain commutation fares are just and reasonable, inasmot asking to earn enough to pay interest or dividends, the cost feature is altogether foreign, he said.
